*Once upon a time in a beautiful and
vibrant land, the Tree of Life bloomed eternal...*

*This tree had blessed the land
with a mysterious red fruit.
All the children ate, and they grew big and strong...*

On the outskirts of this land lived two sisters, Olive and Maple. They enjoyed a peaceful, happy life. Their dog, Pepper, was always close, making sure the sisters were safe.

One fateful day, a thundering storm swept the land, striking the Tree of Life. It shattered the tree at its base, and the mystical fruit began to lose its color.

The storm passed, but nothing was the same. Mothers were begging their children to eat, but even so they only grew weaker. The fruit had lost its color, and with it, its magic.

*Maple was feeling
worse by the day...*

*Pepper tried his best to help. But soon enough,
Maple could not even pick
him up for a hug...*

Pepper had had enough! He ran to Olive, determined to help Maple. The both of them agreed. It was time to do something...but what could they do?

*That's when Olive remembered a story from her grandmother.
A story about the time when the tree was planted...*

She ran to her grandmother's study. There she found it! The journal that her grandmother left behind. It was the story of her journey to Midland, and the origins of the Tree of Life.

*There,
magical
beings called
'The Scientists'
could give her
the help she needed.*

As the sun rose the next day, Olive and Pepper set out on a long journey. A journey to restore the mystical fruit.

They made it through raging rivers

Climbed towering mountains

And crossed vast, barren lands

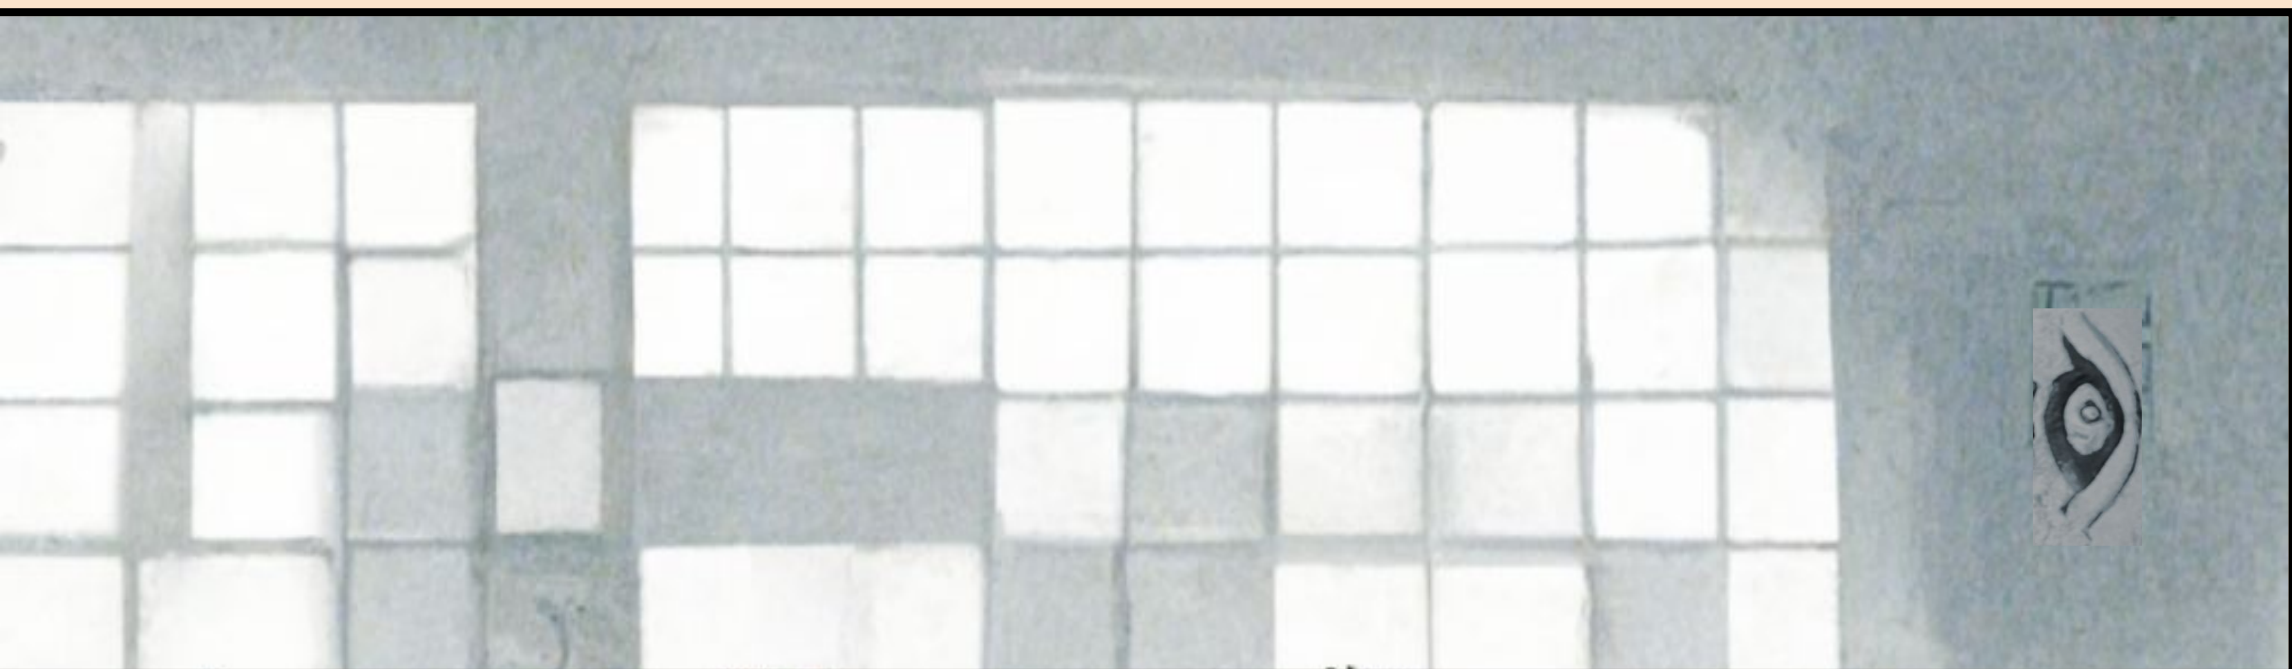

*Then one day,
they finally
reached their
destination,
Midland! The
source of the fabric of the tree's magic..*

*Olive and Pepper
cautiously
made their way inside*

As she entered the room, she recognized 'The Scientists' from her grandmother's journal. Dressed in long white robes, they stared back at her, as if expecting the visit...

The Scientist on the left told Olive that she needed to gather 3 special items to be able to restore the fabric of magic rooted in the Tree of Life

“Your first destination will be the ‘Land of Daucus Carota’. Travel North to the fields of orange. There you will need to find the Vitamin A element”.

Vitamin A element*

“To the west you will find City 53, a great underwater metropolis. There in the depths lies the Iodine element, found in the Algae surrounding the city. This journey is a perilous one, you must be cautious”.

Iodine element

*“The iron element,
your final
ingredient, lies to the east. In the ancient city in the sky, Ferrum. A temple at the highest peak of the city holds the Kale stone, there
rests the Iron
element”.*

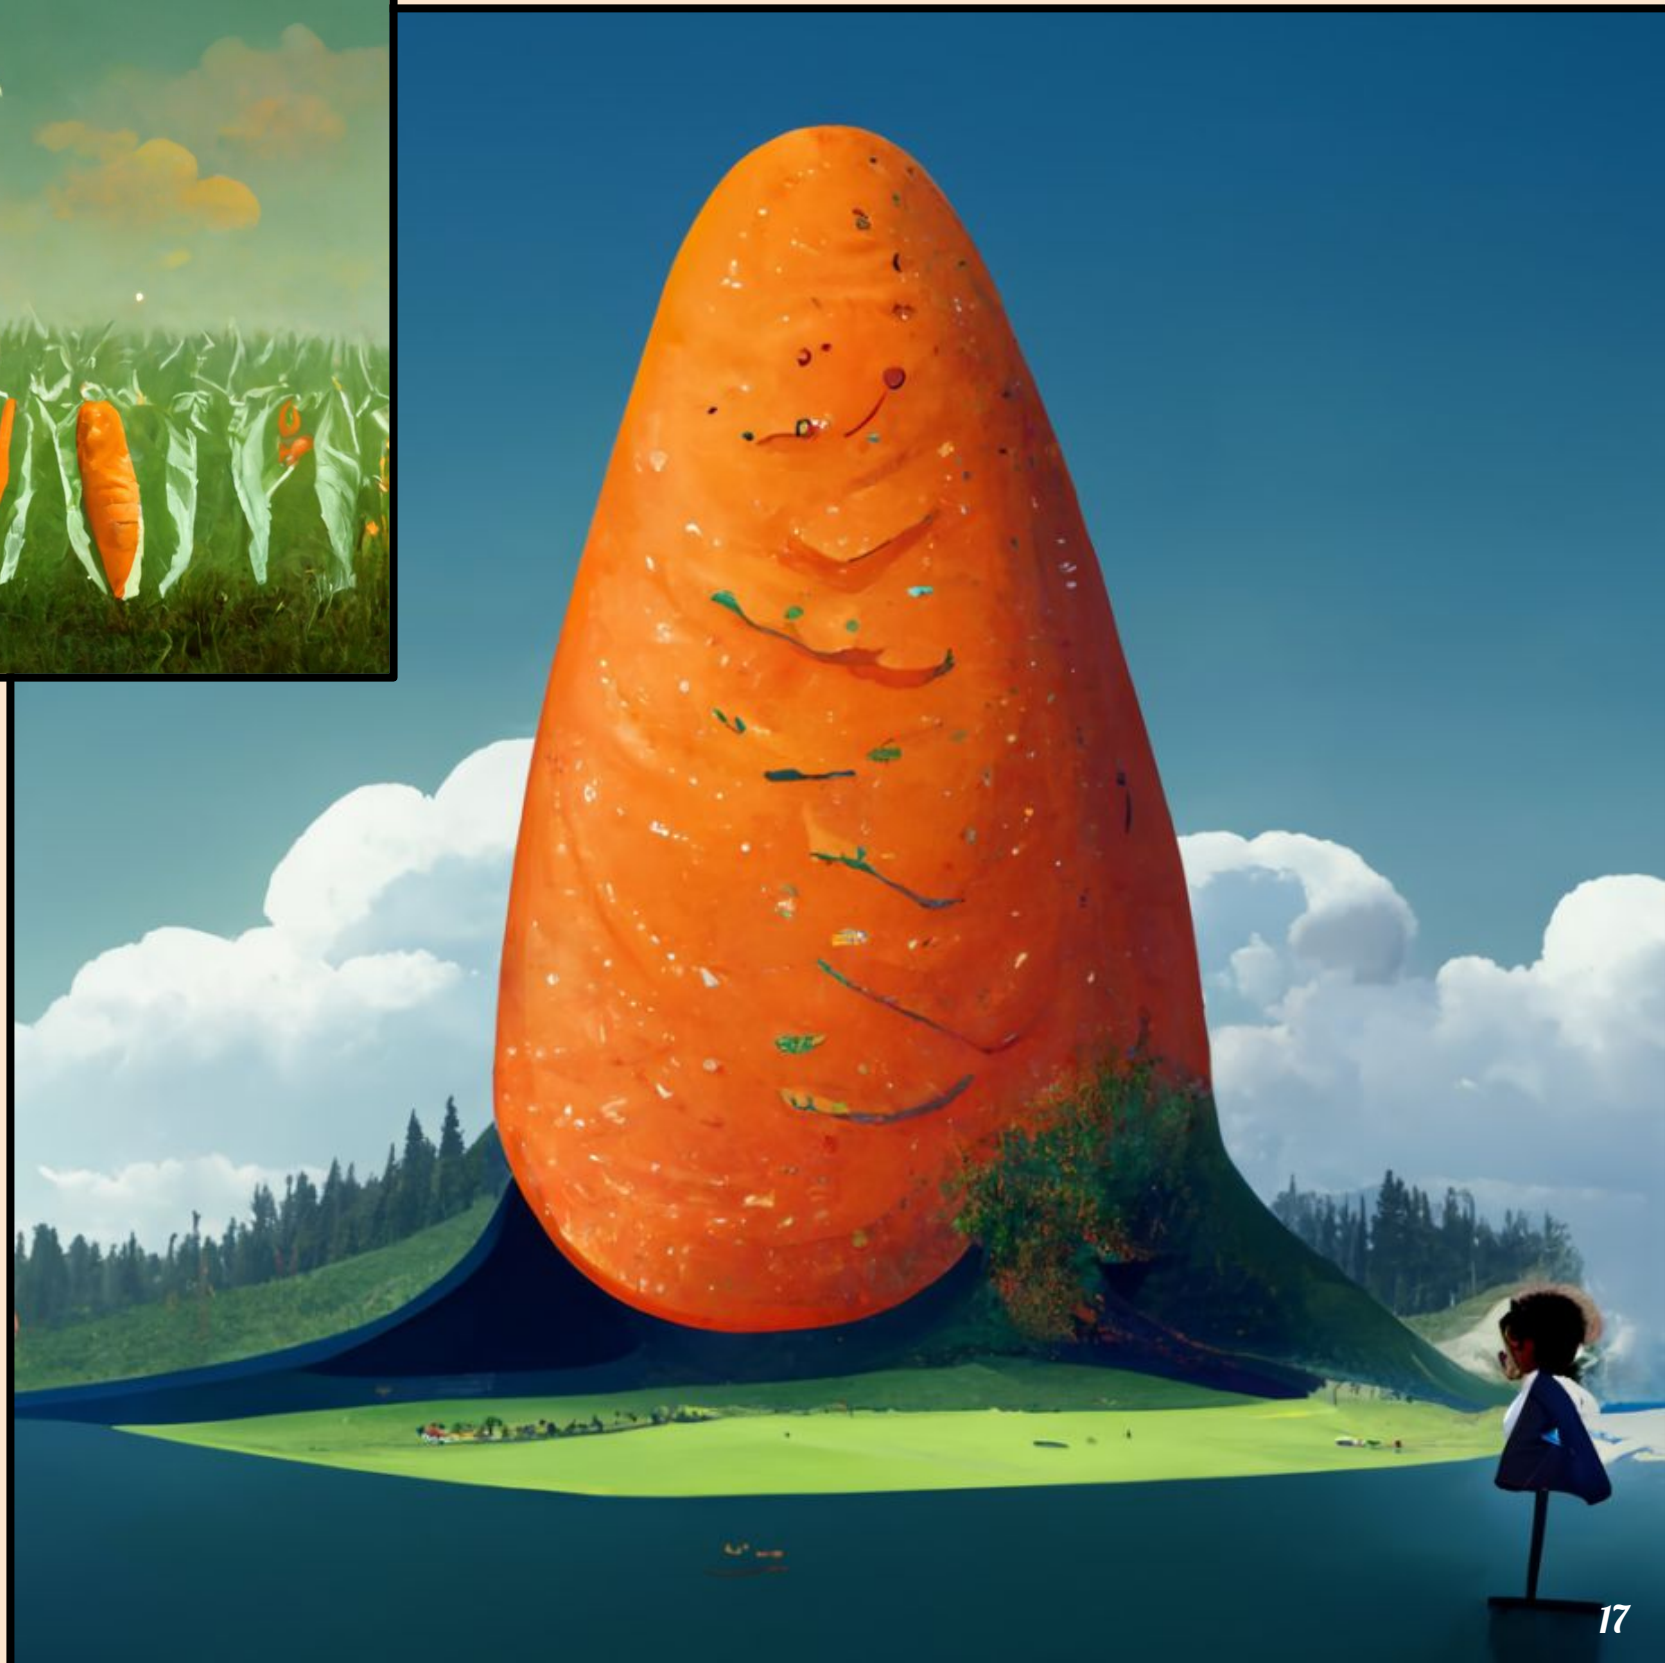

Iron element

*And so, Olive and Pepper
continued their journey...*

First to Daucus Carota...

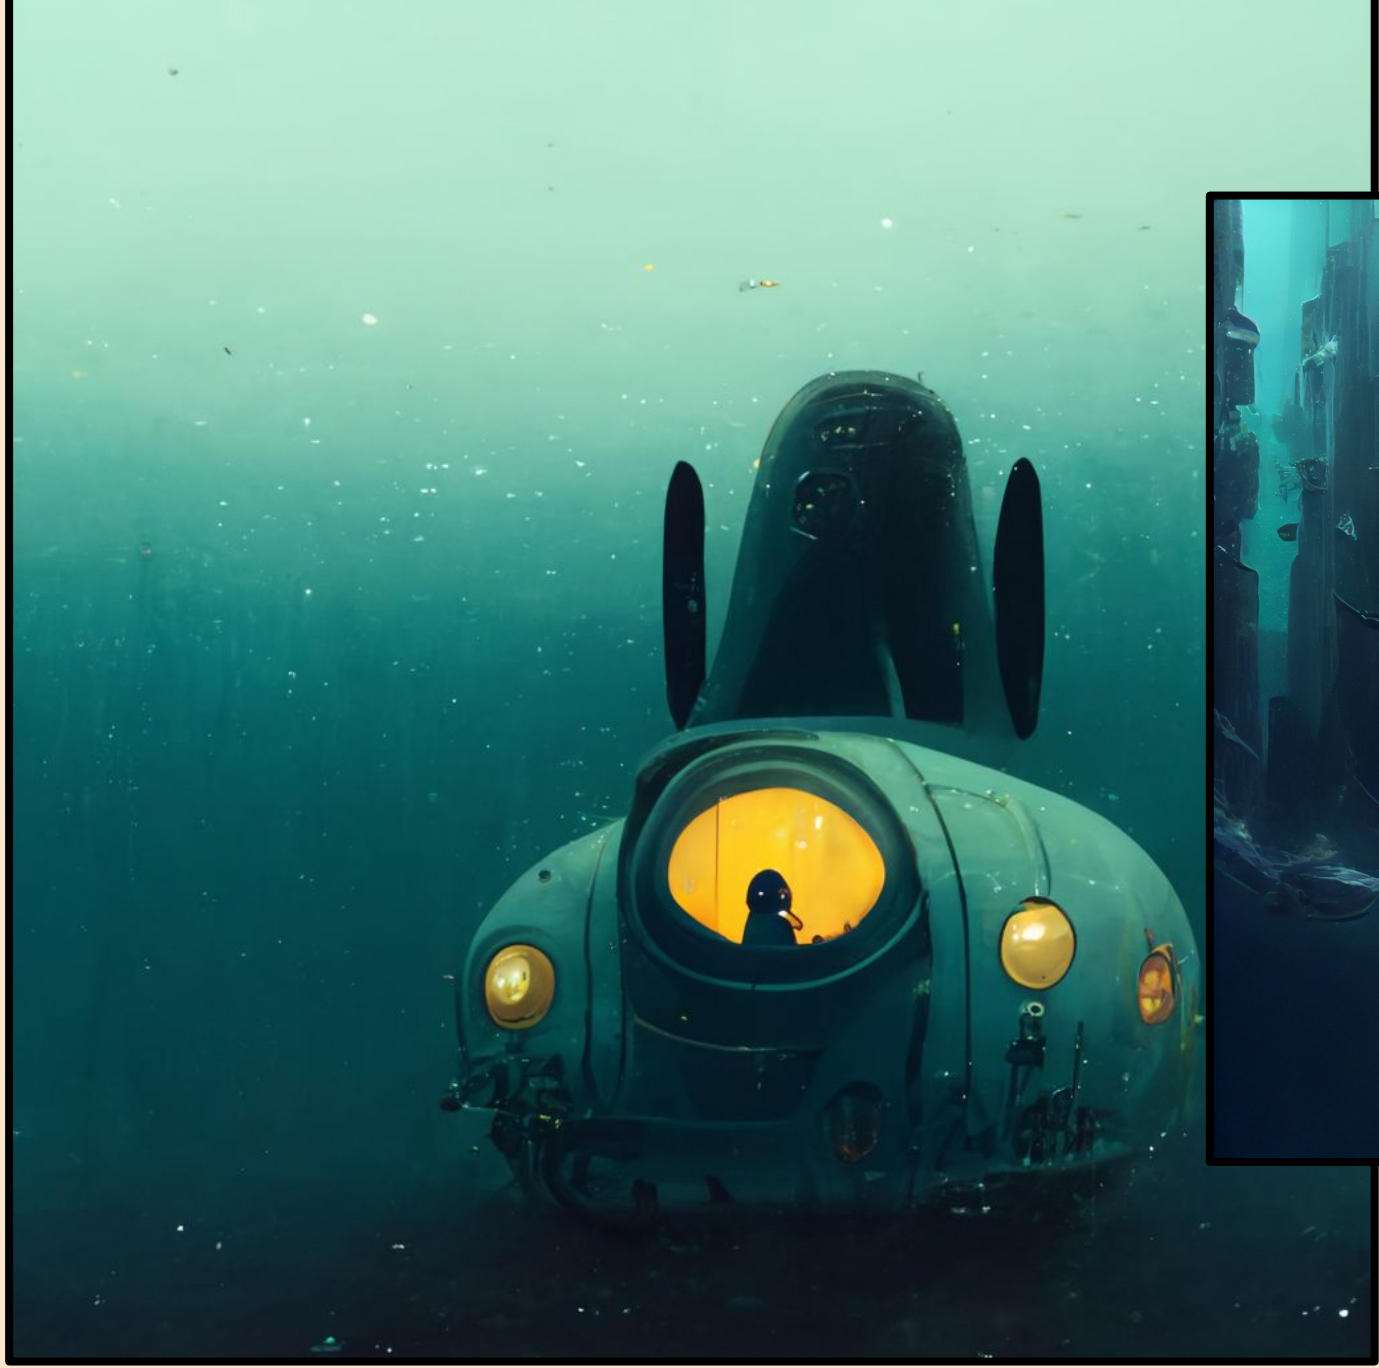

The underwater city was next...

*The
entrance
was cold,
and Olive
was afraid*

But Pepper was there too, and he gave Olive courage

Olive made her way to the outskirts of the city, and recovered the element

Eastbound, Olive and Pepper arrive at the city in the sky.

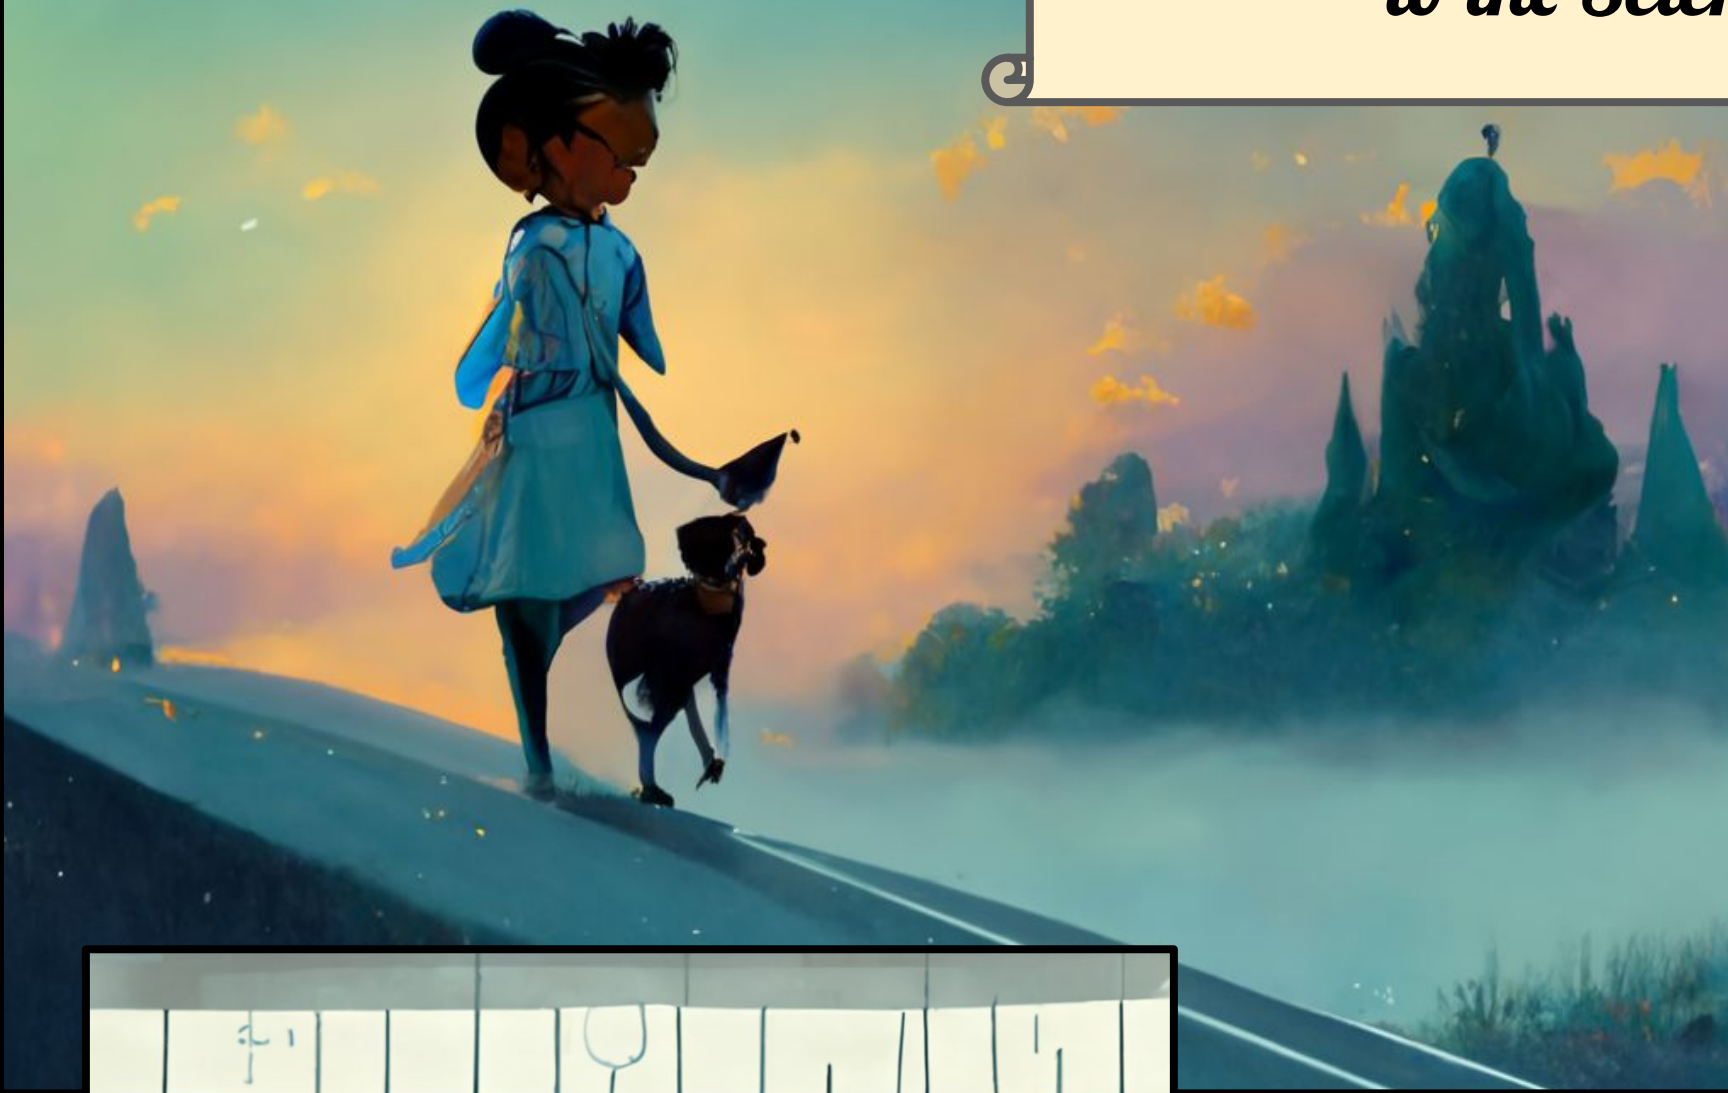

Its walls were lavish and elegant

Finally, she reached the temple...

And the final piece was gathered...

And so, Olive and Pepper return to the Scientists

With their help, she was able to bring together the cure

With a way to restore the tree in their hands, it was time for Olive and Pepper to return home

The way back, somehow, did not seem so long...

Back at the village, they returned...

The Fabric of Magic within the tree was restored!

*And with that, the Tree of Life
could bear its mystical fruit, now beaming a bright red...*

Finally, strong and healthy again, Saga hugs Pepper tight...

And just like that, we close the final moments of this wondrous journey!
